Or we can have an internet chat (one to one):

We cannot have an interview with all of the users face to face, it is not possible. However, it is possible we can have an internet chat with them one to one via the internet if they accept it. For example, we can use the e-mail and send them a link, use a webpage to set up a chat room. Or we can just use the software such as Skype or google hangout to do it.

The basic question we are going to use on the internet is going to be the same, but because it is a chat, we can ask for more detail and create some more individual problems.

1.What is your dog type and the size of your dog?

_____(type)

_____(size)

(No1 is the example we can ask for more detail during the chat)

2. do you think the size of your dog is normal for its type?

_____

(No 2 is the individual problems we may have during the chat. It kind of problem is much more depends on the personal opinion of the owner or the answer to their previous answers)

Here is another example:

3.How much time do you spend with your dog every day?

_____ (time during the workday)

_____ (time during the weekend)

4.How many times would you take your dog for a walk? How long did you spend for each walk?

_____(times)

_____ (time for each walk)

5. Do you think you spend enough time with your dog every week? why

_____(Yes/No)

6.why do you spend so little time with your dog?

_____(why)

(No.6 is the individual problems if we find that the owner really did not spend enough time with their dog)
